

Eastern Europe comes into its own with home-grown business schools

Former communist bloc countries are meeting the increasing need for quality management training

READ
MORE

Teaching talent: IEDC Bled School of Management dean Danica Purg says locally trained academics are making a notable difference